For more than 50 years, the North Texas Commission has been convening regional leaders and stakeholders to build a better future for all North Texans. Our genesis is rooted in the development of DFW International Airport, and throughout the years we’ve been instrumental in regional transportation initiatives, the Superconducting Super Collider, the North Texas Super Bowl and launched the regional leadership program, Leadership North Texas and LNT University, a professional development program for Millennials.

Today, the North Texas Commission leads the region’s advocacy efforts in Washington and Austin to fight for policies. We advocate on behalf of our region, with our chambers of commerce and other associations at our side, for issues that have no city or county boundaries. Both our state and federal legislative agendas typically cover issues such as infrastructure development, business and municipal-friendly legislation, economic development, education/workforce readiness, and health and well-being.

ABOUT THE NORTH TEXAS COMMISSION

Leading The Region’s Advocacy.

The North Texas Commission is a public-private partnership dedicated to advancing the vibrancy of the North Texas Region.
